

Dear Ou Ning

My name is Sofia Mollberg, I'm a 23 year old Swede who is currently attending the second year of fashion design at Polimoda.

Right now we're all working on our first collection and probably as you read this, I just had my pre revision where I showed the first samples and preview in muslin. I developed my concept for my collection based on my grandfather and to give a quick overview, he was a scientist and in the end of life his memory got blurry and he used to go out in the night because of the quiet streets and unfortunately get lost and wondered what he was doing there. Developing my research around this has been a really personal experience for me and also I felt like I finally got to know him. I believe that everything we do is for a reason, consciousness and in unconsciousness, and somehow in the last few years I've been really into mindfulness, which I think is really useful to keep strong in this fast and modern society.

Growing up very independent in "functional, minimalistic Sweden, it's not until now I can really see how the north rubbed off on me. Esthetic wise, mentality wise, I guess no one can mistake me for a nationality elsewhere. Although I'd like to think that I come from space and I'm still looking for my home.

In high school I went to an art and design program where I got to try everything from making silver jewelry, to make 50x50cm 3d house out of wood, paper and everything I could find, to photograph, big paintings and everything in between. I chose fashion design as my main subject and it's been no looking back since.

I've always been driven for what I want to achieve and goal minded, as well as organized and a belief that we're all learning through life, all our lives.

After my creative years in high school went traveling, and I went to live in Australia, and a year in New York. There I worked, traveled and enrolled in some classes. After this, I applied to Polimoda, and it's been my best decision yet.

I hope this was a little helpful to get to know me. I'm really excited for this collaboration and I'm looking forward to meet you! Please contact me if there are any questions.

Best regards,

Sofia Mollberg
